A disappointing entry, even after the invitation was extended to include junior, shorter distance entries, was exasperated by severe weather warnings, putting off several expected to shoot. The reduced field shot the first round in moderate to heavy rain, and, with a worsening forecast, the majority decided not to continue with the second round.

Debbie Anderson, Judge of the day, remained on the field as we waited to see if those entered for the afternoon round would arrive. Surprisingly, after lunch, the weather eased, and Debbie felt it worthwhile for the small number of us that remained to complete the shoot. In much better conditions, with the odd light shower, the second round was shot in record time.

Thank you to all that were able to make it, and for the help with setting up and clearing away the wet targets and equipment; and of course to Debbie. We expect to host a similar event earlier next season – with no rain of course!

Will see you soon, Regards, Chris
